○ Comments and extended discussion

Since we are all not familiar with this topic of research, we are each doing our own preparation in this subject while studying what the professor had provided us with. In the next Friday, we would be presenting what we had learn from the research paper to the professor. This week we still have the whole thing done together as a group since the professor only need one presentation from us as a group.

○ Plan for coming week

- Shir Linn Tan: Presentation for the professor on Friday and continue to study up on the subject regarding our project.
- Wai Han Kong: Presentation for the professor on Friday and continue to study up on the subject regarding our project.
- Dalton Strauser: Presentation for the professor on Friday and continue to study up on the subject regarding our project.
- XiongSheng Yi: Presentation for the professor on Friday and continue to study up on the subject regarding our project.

- Summary of weekly advisor meeting

We didn't meet with Professor Que for this week, but we had gotten an email containing some past research paper which his research group had studied in the past also which is related to the project that we are working on now. As such, we are to study it also. On 23rd September (Friday), we would be presenting what we get from the research paper that he sent to us and then get further information on what we would be doing from thereafter.
